SEA AND SHORE

YESTERDAY was a busy one for tug Fearless. She was kept on the jump all the morning and in the afternoon she went a good distance out to sea to bring in a bark which was unable to get very close to the island on account of a lack of wind.

In the morning the barkentine Archer and the bark Kaulani arrived from San Francisco and the bark Hesper came in from Newcastle. In the evening the Fearless brought the bark Albert into port, from San Francisco.

Captain Calhoun, the commander of the barkentine Archer, she made the run from the Coast in fourteen days and brought a general cargo for this port.

The bark Kaulani also came with a general cargo and was eighteen days on the trip from San Francisco. The Hesper was fifty-nine days from the south. The bark Albert made the best run of the vessels arriving from the Coast, coming down in thirteen days from San Francisco, leaving that port on the same day that the last regular mail boat took her departure.

Besides the arrival of these four deep-water vessels, the steamer Claudine made port from Kahului and way ports early yesterday morning and several boats of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company also arrived.

The Famous Bark Hesper.

The Hesper is well known in this port and Honolulu will remember how she came here on the 21st of February, 1893, with the exciting story of a murder at sea, mutinous sailors having killed their second mate.

The Hesper sailed from Newcastle on the 21st of January, on the present trip, with 1,175 tons of coal, consigned to order.

Captain J. F. O. Sodergren, the same captain who commanded her when she was here in 1892, reports that during the first part of the passage from the south, light south and southwesterly winds were experienced, which led to in February 24, in latitude 27 degrees and 27 minutes south, longitude 153 degrees and 23 minutes west.

Then a strong northerly gale was met with which lasted for two days, with heavy rain and a confused sea from all quarters. Thence, from latitude 26 degrees and 33 minutes south, longitude 150 degrees and 10 minutes west, very light east and northeast winds were experienced. No southeast trades were met with until latitude 3 degrees south. The equator was crossed in longitude 150 degrees and 24 minutes west, on the 16th instant.

Southeast trades were carried to 3 degrees and 15 minutes north. After that the Hesper was in the doldrums to 5 degrees and 10 minutes north. Shortly afterwards the northeast trades were encountered with a very high and confused sea from the northeast and north. Fresh northeast trades were had from 15 degrees north to the Hawaiian Islands. The Islands were sighted on the 26th instant.

Calms and light airs were had from the 26th instant to port.

On the Hesper's memorable voyage from Newcastle, when the murder took place at sea, and she arrived here in February of 1893, she sailed from Newcastle on December 22 of the preceding year, with a cargo of coal.

The story which she brought to this port was one of murder, mutiny and piracy.

The crew had planned to murder the captain and four others, and the plot was only discovered when the first crime had been committed by the crew.

Thomas Le Clair, one of the sailors, hatched the plot. He had four others with him who had sworn to help him carry out his murderous scheme.

Kahokuuluna Miss A. Kamaka, Chew Man, Tong Keung, Goo Lip, George H.
Dunn, F. H. Hayelden, Jr., H. Poe-poe and 48 deck.

Steamers From Kauai.

Three steamers arrived in port early yesterday morning from Kauai. They were the Hanalei, the Mikahala and the Waialeale of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company.
